WIFE'S PROTEST AT DRAFT FAIR

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 2.—Action of a Wabash county draft board in classifying Grant W. Walter, 23, as 1-A despite his claims he was sole support of his wife and child, was upheld in Federal court today by Judge Thomas W. Slick.

The hearing in the case was the first of its kind here. Judge Slick previously had issued a temporary restraining order to prevent the draft board from calling Walter into service until he could hear evidence in the case.

In an injunction petition Mrs. Walter charged her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lukens of Silver Lake, had conspired with the draft board to have her husband called into the Army because of a family disagreement. She also charged Walter was not given a fair hearing by the draft board.

DePauw President Addresses Faculty

DR. WILDMAN SAYS CHIEF CONCERN IS OUR NATION
NOW AT WAR

"Our chief concern is our nation and the world of which we are a part; in these days institutions and individuals must do everything in their power to win the war and the peace which must follow," declared President Clyde E. Wildman of DePauw University as he addressed faculty members today at the opening of the 1942-43 school year.

"At DePauw," he continued, "we will hope to give the training that will stand by our graduates be it war or peace. Hundreds of DePauw men are even now in the service of the nation. Four have already given their lives."

Pointing out that DePauw University enrollment for the fall semester would remain near normal, in spite of the drain of selective service and industry, President Wildman said that "Some prophets of doom are insisting that many privately endowed and church-related colleges will go out of existence as a result of the war. We at DePauw do not expect to go out of existence."

He explained that DePauw University had operated for the past six years on a surplus and that it entered the war years in excellent financial condition with its physical plant in good repair. More than one million dollars have been added to the assets of the university during the past half decade.

Commenting on the work of the liberal arts college during wartime, President Wildman concluded: "The Army, Navy and Marines realize the need for college men as officer material. Twelve per cent of our present drafted army is composed of college men. These twelve per cent are furnishing 80 per cent of the officers."

SINGLE MEN WILL BE TAKEN OVER NATION

CHANGES MADE IN SELECTIVE SERVICE RULES FOR TIME BEING

QUOTA BASIS IS CHANGED

Many Sections Of The Country Still Have Single Men, While Others Have Not

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Draft headquarters today issued orders intended, generally speaking, to call all available single men to the colors before the systematic induction of married men is begun.

Heretofore, state selective service directors have called upon local boards for men without regard to the proportion of married and unmarried men in those districts. Consequently the levies on some districts have exceeded the number of unmarried registrants and quotas have been filled out with married men. In other districts, meanwhile, unmarried men were left still awaiting call.

Today, Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, the national draft director instructed the state directors to arrange their calls for men in a way that will "call the heaviest load right now on boards having the most single men or men with collateral dependants only."

Collateral dependants are brothers, sisters, parents and grandparents or wives and children with whom the registrant does not live. Men with collateral dependants are to be called ahead of those with wives and children with whom they maintain the usual family relationship.

Hershey said the new procedure would spread inductions so as to achieve the "objective of calling men from the small town and from the city on an approximately uniform basis."

Local boards, meanwhile, were ordered to complete the classification of 3-A men with collateral dependants. This speedup was necessary, he said, because "the serious military situation" indicates that the monthly calls of 1943 will "be equal to or in excess of the monthly calls made in August, September and October of this year."

On the question of registrants between 18 and 20 Hershey said no one would be called until he had reached 20 years of age "until such time as Congress may modify the law."

Senator Gurney, Republican, South Dakota, said he was preparing an amendment to the selective service act which would make 18 and 19-year-old registrants liable for induction. He said he would introduce his legislation Thursday.

Gurney said action should have been taken long ago and that he would urge early consideration.

Meeting Stresses Tire Conservation

WAR WORKERS TRANSPORTATION ASSOCIATION MET IN INDIANAPOLIS

The manner in which the necessity for conserving tires could be impressed on war workers was the principal topic discussed at the War Workers Transportation Association, which was held at the Claypool Hotel in Indianapolis on Tuesday. A full bus load of thirty persons would take an average of 7 or 8 passenger cars off the road and thereby save wear on 28 tires per trip, it was mentioned at the meeting, and that the appeal to people to double up in using their cars was not intended to apply to those communities that are served by buses making regular scheduled trips to the war plants. Facts pertaining to this problem are now being gathered so that some action may be taken in the near future towards a solution.

Among those attending the meeting were George Barnard, Public Service Commissioner; George F. Burnette, state executive of the Office of Defense Transportation; and H. E. Fairweather, district superintendent of Bureau of Motor Carriers. (Continued on Page Two)

American Airmen Flying Tip To Tip
With English On Desert Front
Says Report

(By United Press)

A new battle of Egypt raged in the western desert today and on the approaches of Stalingrad Russian forces fought desperately to stop a Nazi attack that threatened the city and the Volga river life line.

Initial reports on the desert battle indicated that British armored forces and American and British planes were pounding the forces of Marshal Erwin Rommel who was trying to get his desert machine rolling.

It was the first big combat action for American forces in the Middle East. U. S. Bombers and fighters were carrying out attack after attack on Axis concentrations and American tank units stood on the battle line ready to counter any Nazi thrust in their direction.

The first impact of the battle was felt at the southern end of the Alamein line where armored columns of both sides were engaged.

At stake in the desert combat were great prizes of war. Rommel's ultimate objective is the Nile and the Suez. The Allies, if they beat off Rommel's challenge, may open up an all-out attack to drive the Germans from all footholds in Africa.

There was continued nervousness in France over French African possessions, notably Dakar and French North Africa where Vichy reported the fourth British reconnaissance plane of the last few days was shot down.

Moscow dispatches reported that the Stalingrad defenders were suffering heavily under new German pressure which opened a dangerous break in the southwestern defense.

GEORGE DIRKS PROMOTED TO MAJOR IN U. S. ARMY

Dean and Mrs. L. H. Dirks this morning received a message announcing the promotion of their son, Captain George H. Dirks, to the rank of major, at Camp Wolters, Texas. We went to that post from Ft. Benning, Ga., where he had received his captain's bars, having entered the service as a first lieutenant. Major Dirks was graduated from DePauw university with the class of 1929, a Phi Beta Kappa, and a graduate of the DePauw R. O. T. C. His rapid advancement in the army has been due, largely, to the training he received in the collegiate military school, as well as to his natural aptitude for things of a military nature. He also kept himself fresh and fit in his military training, after graduation from college, his father said.

The August 20 issue of the Camp Wolters' newspaper, The Long Horn, features the work of Major Dirks in the military transportation department, in which it says:

"A unique record in military transportation has been established by the Chauffeurs' School of the 51st Battalion, with the completion of an entire year of technical training without an accident. The school's vehicles have traveled an aggregate of approximately half a million miles under all conditions, driven by 1,160 drivers in training."

"The organization has been under the command of Capt. George H. Dirks since its inception, most of the time."

WOMEN STENOGRAPHERS NEEDED IN WAR WORK

Miss Elizabeth M. Ward, secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners at the Greencastle Post Office announced today that the U. S. Civil Service Commission is greatly concerned because of the refusal of young women to accept jobs as stenographers and typists in Washington, D. C., and Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio. The lack of a sufficient number of women to fill these positions is definitely handicapping our war effort. Women stenographers are urgently needed to fill positions in various government departments in Washington, D. C. It is the responsibility of the young women of America to do their part to bring about a speedy victory and this can be accomplished only if everyone is willing to serve in the position where she is most urgently needed and for which she is best qualified.

Miss Ward has arranged for a representative of the U. S. Civil Service Commission to be in Greencastle at 2 p. m. on the 4th of September. A special examination will be given at that time. Persons interested should contact Miss Ward at the Post Office.

Miss Ward further said: "Requirements have been cut to a minimum and today immediate appointment will be given to women, who are able to pass brief spot examinations. Women must be 18 years of age or over to qualify for Washington and 17 for Wright Field. Typists should be able to copy simple printed material accurately and at moderate speed, and stenographers to take dictation at the rate of 96 words per minute. The salary is $120.00 per month and opportunities for advancement are unlimited."

That Extra Something!

...You can spot it every time

ON the campus or off, Coca-Cola has that extra something that rates with youth. That's why Coca-Cola—a long-established product—belongs to the younger set year after year. Choicest, special ingredients and special care in its making, give Coca-Cola a special refreshing taste and quality.

This unique taste comes from a finished art in its making, unknown to others... a blend of flavor-essences merging the ingredients of Coca-Cola into a taste all its own. And it leaves that unmistakable after-sense of refreshment that everybody recognizes... and welcomes.

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called Coke. Coca-Cola and Coke mean the same thing... the real thing... "a single thing coming from a single source, and well known to the community".

"Let's go see if the Coke's in", and off they troop to enjoy youth's ritual of refreshment... a custom particularly "special" in these war days when there's less Coca-Cola.

The best is always the better buy!

YOUNG MAN HAS NOT WALKED SINCE BABYHOOD

The young man who moves about in a wheeled chair, and who is often seen at the crossing watchman's tower at the cement plant highway, crossing of the Pennsylvania tracks, just south of Limesdale, is Jasper Albright. He is 36 years old and has not walked a step since he was one year and nine months old, when he was hurt by the turning over of a step in a stairway at his home in Perth, a mining town on the Big Four west of Carbon.

In that accident, his spine was injured and he became paralyzed from the waist down, his legs being entirely useless to him. His father was Melvin Albright, a coal miner of Perth, now living. His mother is Mrs. Mary Albright, and she and her son Jasper and another son Claude, now reside in Limesdale. Claude works at the cement plant.

Jasper, despite his crippled condition, completed the eight grades of the school at Perth. He has good health and he rejoices in the possession of a fine wheeled chair, costing $139.50, which was presented to him by the employees of the cement plant, all of whom are his friends.

The unfortunate young man helps keep trouble and worry at a distance by indulging in two hobbies, one of which is the writing of letters to soldier friends, and the other is fancy needle work in which he is proficient.

UNION VALLEY CHURCH WINS ATTENDANCE BANNER

The Union Valley Baptist church Sunday school won the attendance banner at the annual meeting of the White Lick Baptist Association, which was held Sunday at the Coatesville Baptist church, where the Rev. Bill Grip of Indianapolis, is pastor. This makes the third year that the Union Valley school has won the attendance banner.

The congregation consisted of two hundred and eighty people and Prof. Will Strain of the DePauw University faculty, presided. An interesting program was given and a bountiful dinner was enjoyed at the noon hour in the library. There are seventeen church schools in the White Lick Association and a large number of these were represented at the meeting Sunday.

During the business session it was decided to hold the next meeting at the Union Valley church, the fifth Sunday in August, 1943.

The Valley church school was represented on the program by a song by the church pastor, the Rev. B. M. Page and his wife. The Valley congregation appreciates the interest and work shown by the Rev. Page and also Robert Fisher, school superintendent. The former has been furnishing transportation for the children in the Belle Union community to and from their Sunday school and a great deal of interest has been shown by them in return.

All America Knows
Budweiser...
but Few Know This

THE STORY OF BREAD

may well be called The Story of Civilization

Bread, the most venerable of prepared foods, has helped man, and man in turn has bettered the quality of his staff of life.

YEAST is the life of bread... and the story of yeast is the story of scientific research, uniform quality, mammoth production, modern refrigeration... and daily delivery to bakers in every city, town and village throughout the land... even by boat, by sled and by plane when other transportation is interrupted by floods and blizzards.

Anheuser-Busch is one of America's biggest sources of baker's yeast.

Year after year, we have striven with research and resources to better the methods and facilities for brewing Budweiser. To do this, a laboratory specializing in fermentation and nutrition was necessary. Discoveries made in the laboratory and in the plant have led to the development of products contributing to human necessity and progress. Some of these products would appear to have only a remote relationship to brewing, yet, they are the result of scientific research into many allied fields.

Endless research in making the world's leading beer has led to other products

VITAMINS, B COMPLEX—For manufacturers of pharmaceutical and food products. Our plant is one of the world's largest sources.

VITAMIN D—Anheuser-Busch produces enough of the basic material for Vitamin D to supply the entire American market.

CORN SYRUP—many millions of pounds annually for America's candy industry.

SYRUPS—for food, table and confectionery uses and special syrups for medicinal purposes.

STARCH—for food, textile, paper and other industries—millions of pounds annually.

VITAMINS FOR LIVESTOCK—We are America's biggest supplier of yeast vitamins used to fortify animal feeds.

REFRIGERATING EQUIPMENT—for retailers of frozen foods and ice cream the country over. This division is now working all-out on glider wing and fuselage assemblies for our Armed Forces.

DIESEL ENGINES—Adolphus Busch, founder of Anheuser-Busch, acquired the first rights to manufacture this revolutionary engine in America and thus started our great Diesel industry on its way.

Budweiser

ANHEUSER-BUSCH SAINT LOUIS

YOUNG VOYAGER—Nine-week-old James Theron Ward, shown with his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Cecil S. Ward, first saw the light of day aboard the diplomatic exchange liner Gripsholm, which brought American nationals from Jap internment camps to Jersey City, N. J. Jap doctor delivered baby.

LIGHT SAVED HIM—Gunner Charles Belknap of Walden, N.Y., shows how a flashlight caught a machine-gun bullet when his Flying Fortress was attacked by a Jap fighter over New Guinea. Bullet didn't injure him, but tore pants.
